Biography

Greg is an academic General Practitioner with an interest in primary care research and medical education. He has received three consecutive personal National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) Fellowships including an Academic Clinical Fellow, Doctoral and Academic Clinical Lecturer awards. He completed his medical training in Nottingham before going onto postgraduate studies in Oxford and Liverpool then worked as a Clinical Lecturer in Cambridge. He has also previously studied as a Global Clinical Scholar at Harvard University. Clinically Greg works as an General Practitioner and Consultant in Primary Care in St.Helens and is also a MERIT doctor for the North West Ambulance Service.

Employment

Reader in General Practice
Medical School
Edge Hill University
30 Jul 2020 → present

Research outputs

The individualisation of glycaemic targets in response to patient characteristics in type 2 diabetes: a scoping review
IRVING, GREG., 11 Feb 2022, (Accepted/In press) In: Clinical Medicine.

What next for COVID Oximetry and virtual ward?

Cognitive behavioural approaches for managing dyspnoea in people with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD)

Interventions to improve inhaler technique for adults with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease

Perspectives on expert generalist practice among japanese family doctor educators: A qualitative study

Evaluation of a ‘drop box’ doorstep assessment service to aid remote assessments for COVID-19 in general practice

The MRCGP Recorded Consultation Assessment: time to drop 10 minutes as standard?

Patient-reported outcomes after 10-year follow-up of intensive, multifactorial treatment in individuals with screen-detected type 2 diabetes: the ADDITION-Europe trial

Rethinking role models in general practice
Behaviour change, weight loss and remission of Type 2 diabetes: a community-based prospective cohort study

Long-term effects of intensive multifactorial therapy in individuals with screen-detected type 2 diabetes in primary care: 10-year follow-up of the ADDITION-Europe cluster-randomised trial

Hepatitis A immunisation in persons not previously exposed to hepatitis A

Hepatitis A immunisation in persons not previously exposed to Hepatitis A (Protocol)

Building primary care in Japan: Literature review

Moderate weight change following diabetes diagnosis and 10 year incidence of cardiovascular disease and mortality

The day we met Julian Tudor Hart

Metformin in non-diabetic hyperglycaemia: the GLINT feasibility RCT

Patients’ views on interactions with practitioners for type 2 diabetes: a longitudinal qualitative study in primary care over 10 years

International variations in primary care physician consultation time: a systematic review of 67 countries

Impact of metformin on cardiovascular disease: a meta-analysis of randomised trials among people with type 2 diabetes

Should we screen for atrial fibrillation?

The ecology of medical care on an isolated island in Okinawa, Japan: a retrospective open cohort study
Which cuff should I use? Indirect blood pressure measurement for the diagnosis of hypertension in patients with obesity: a diagnostic accuracy review

Interventions to increase or decrease the length of primary care physicians’ consultation

After Achilles

The AGREE Reporting Checklist is useful for assessing the quality of clinical practice guideline development

Do you understand how your health system works? from Beveridge to Bismark a Whistle -stop Tour of European Health Systems

Adjustment and adaptation in patients with chronic heart failure at the end of life
IRVING, GREG., 2 Sep 2015, University of Liverpool.

The meaning of suffering in patients with advanced progressive cancer

Pharmacological agents for the prevention of vestibular migraine

Colchicine for pericarditis

Cardiovascular disease and cancer compete for the outcome of death

From patient uncertainty to WHO policy in two years: a GP’s experience of preparing and maintaining a Cochrane review

Examining the practice of generalist expertise: a qualitative study identifying constraints and solutions

Chronic heart failure guidelines: Do they adequately address patient need at the end-of-life?

NAPCRG 2012: reflections from across the pond.

The time-efficiency principle: time as the key diagnostic strategy in primary care
Measures of promptness of cancer diagnosis in primary care

Global health: time for full integration into GP education

The John Henry effect

VdGM: Vasco da Gama Movement

Dismantling Lord Moran’s ladder: the primary care expert generalist

Long-term protective effects of hepatitis A vaccines. A systematic review

Global health in the UK’s GP postgraduate curriculum

Do GPs really provide 47 minutes a year for the patient?

Hepatitis A immunisation in persons not previously exposed to hepatitis A

15 minute consultations as standard benefit patients and GPs

Calling time on the 10-minute consultation

A pause for thought: reflections on the 2011 SAPC Annual Conference

Can generalism help revive the primary healthcare vision?

The Prevalence of Depression in People with Cancer
IRVING, GREG., 31 Dec 2010, Depression and Cancer. Wiley

Academic General Practice Training in the UK-what is it All about?

Depression in advanced cancer - ClinicalKey
The educational benefits of a federation of four training practices

CapA, an autotransporter protein of Campylobacter jejuni, mediates association with human epithelial cells and colonization of the chicken gut

Prizes
RCGP Fit for Future conference best poster - COVID-19 category
IRVING, GREG (Recipient), 12 Feb 2021

RCGP / SAPC John Fry award
IRVING, GREG (Recipient), 12 Jul 2021

Yvonne Carter award for Primary Care Research
IRVING, GREG (Recipient), 2015